STUDENT PAPER AWARDS

Winner: Three papers per year
Sponsor(s): To be determined
Description: Awards are presented to full-time undergraduate or graduate students who prepare the best technical papers that describe results related to engineering and sustainability.

Selection Criteria:

1. Technical merit: The student(s) needs to provide original experimental data and/or published facts.
2. Quality: The student(s) need to have the paper published (or to be published) in a refereed journal within the last year.
3. Results: The content of the paper needs to describe significant (to society) results.
4. Authorship: The student(s) needs to be the primary author(s).
5. Qualifications: The student(s) must be AIChE member(s), the SEF, and enrolled an ABET accredited Chemical Engineering program. The student may submit an application to join SEF, if not already a member.

Application/Nomination Deadline:

September 1, 2009. Papers may be submitted directly by student(s), or nominated by local section chair, or an AIChE member. The original, signed manuscript and an e-mail copy of the paper with pertinent information are to be sent to:

SEF Awards Committee Chair
