Letter from the Publisher

Three good reasons to go to www.cep magazine.org

One of many improvements we made to your magazine was to put complete issues of CEP online. If you haven't visited www.cep magazine.org yet, here are three very good reasons we think you should:

First, you get instant access to detailed information from advertisers and other companies to whom you can link directly from CEP. Click on the company URL and visit their websites. Product and pricing info, technical specifications, sizes and options — it's all there for you on a moment's notice.

Second, CEP is your personal electronic library. Beginning with January 2001, we have archived complete issues of CEP online. Soon we will have technical articles from back issues available as well, searchable by author, title or subject matter. Print or browse the pdf files and enjoy a ready reference to current and past issues of CEP.

Third, make www.cep magazine.org your personal home page and get industry news, stock quotes, financial information and breaking news about what is going on in your industry. It is all at www.cep magazine.org, and it is just one of the benefits of your membership in AIChE.

Easy access to information and ways that let you leverage technology to stay current about what is new and compelling in your industry are just a few of the reasons to use www.cep magazine.org. However you access the information, we hope you'll agree that CEP is your most reliable source of information about the traditional and emerging CPI disciplines.
