This is a great opportunity to experience different flavors of upstream engineering and flow assurance problems. The list of the presentations can be accessed at <https://aiche.confex.com/aiche/2016/webprogram/ataaglance.html>. After the technical session, UEFA will host a social event on Monday, November 14th evening at: Johnny Foley's 243 O'Farrell St, San Francisco, CA 94102 starting from 6:30 PM.

UEFA Student Workshop

UEFA is also very excited to host a student workshop on Saturday, November 12th from 3:00-3:30 PM before the AIChE meeting. The student workshop will take place at the Hilton Union Square in the Continental 1/2/3 room. If you are having questions about the frontiers of UEFA research, career advices, opportunities in UEFA or just UEFA as a general discipline, this is a great opportunity to discuss your thoughts with your peers and professionals from the industry.

Upcoming AIChE/SPE Joint Workshop: Next Generation Deepwater Facilities

This AIChE/SPE joint workshop will discuss the challenges and path-forwards for deep-water production. The workshop offers technical presentations, hands-on case study experiences, panel discussions and more. It will take place in Houston, TX, from December 13th to December 14th.
