The Chair reiterated the need for speakers and suggestions for topics for our monthly talks.

The speaker for the evening was our Chair, José Ramiro Rodríguez Perazza. The topic was “Marketing for Engineers and Technical Personnel”.

The speaker discussed how marketing is applicable to all aspects of human activity. He reviewed the principles of marketing a product and how these concepts are also applicable to the marketing of our professional services, whether working independently or as members of an organization. The bottom line was that you must sell yourself before you can sell your services. Tips on how to know yourself and improve your value as a professional were discussed. The presentation will be posted on our website.
