Presentations must be prepared as high quality technical presentations. While there may be interest in promoting your work and/or company, it must be done in such a manner as to present the work as a technical presentation. "Promotion" of your company can be achieved through a superior presentation. Overt sales, product, or marketing pitches are not desired or permitted. Through the review process, session chairs will ensure prepared presentations are of high quality and are technical in nature. Review comments will be forwarded to and/or discussed with presenters for inclusion in the final technical presentation.
