

Andreas Acrivos Award for Professional Progress in Chemical Engineering

- Please join us in our efforts to establish a new award in Professor Andreas Acrivos' honor, an influential and inspiring leader in the field of chemical engineering. (This award will be endowed and permanently restricted once it reaches a minimum amount of $50,000.)
- Your donation to the Andreas Acrivos Award for Professional Progress in Chemical Engineering will allow us to recognize a chemical engineer under the age of 45 each year, who has contributed to the field of chemical engineering in one of the following ways:
 - A theoretical discovery or development of a new principle
 - Development of a new process or product
 - An invention or development of new equipment
 - Distinguished service rendered to the field or profession
- All donors to the award will be recognized nationally each year by the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.
- Spending of the endowment will be in accordance with guidelines of prudence established by NYPMIFA.
