

Antitrust Guidelines

- No participant (“Participant”) attending activities shall attempt to bring about any anticompetitive or illegal understanding or agreement, of any kind, with regard to prices, terms or conditions of sale, distribution, volume of production, sales territories or customer or suppliers.
- No Participant in connection with AIChE activities shall discuss, communicate, or engage in any other information exchange with regard to prices or pricing methods.
- No Participant in connection with AIChE activities shall discuss, or exchange information about restrictions on production or sales, or sales territories or customers or suppliers.
- No Participant in connection with AIChE activities shall participate in any discussion of costs or any exchange of cost information, unless counsel is present.
- No Participant in connection with AIChE activities shall engage in any discussion to prevent any person or business entity from gaining access to any market or customer for goods or services, or to prevent any business entity from obtaining a supply of goods or otherwise purchasing goods or services freely in the market.
- All Participants have an obligation to comply with these antitrust Guidelines in connection with their activity and will advise an appropriate AIChE representative of any known or suspected violation of these Guidelines.
